

RescuePRO - Plain English License

This section briefly explains the major points of the following End User License Agreement (EULA). This software subscription is licensed to be used on a single computer owned by you or your organization, if you have multiple computers you are required to purchase multiple licenses. The subscription period is for 12 (twelve) months from the initial date of activation. You cannot use this software to recover images or data for other people for profit. This software should be treated as if it was published in paper book form. You can store a backup copy of the software but cannot use two copies of the software at any one time. You are also agreeing that you will not attempt to discover how the software works internally or attempt to make a similar piece of software using this software as a reference (Reverse Engineering). You are agreeing that you have paid for the right to use the software as described in the EULA but do not own the software and the licensor retains all ownership of the software and its copyright, in fact the owner can, without affect to any other parts of the agreement, terminate the license at any time. Because you do not own the software you cannot rent it. If you transfer your license you must destroy all copies of the software in your possession and supply the new licensee with original media and a copy of this license agreement. You also agree that this software is provided "as is" and while all reasonable effort was made to ensure the product is of good quality the licensor makes no warranty to how the software performs or that it is suitable for the purpose you intend to use it for. Please understand that if you wish to challenge this agreement you are agreeing to forfeit you venue and file all complaints in the Courts of Pinellas County in Florida, USA and the United States District Court for the Middle District of Florida. There may be other issues that concern you, and this Plain English Section was not intended to replace legal consul but rather to give brief overview of the some of the contents of the EULA. All terms of the EULA are NOT covered in the Plain English Section and therefore the Plain English Section is not meant to replace the EULA rather to supplement it.
